

STLRWCC

St. Louis Regional Wound Care Conference

Mission Statement/Accreditation Statement

STLRWCC's educational mission is to provide new knowledge as well as enhance skills to improve attendee overall clinical practice in the care and management of chronic wounds with an emphasis on peripheral vascular disease and the lower extremity. The demographic audience for this Continuing Medical Education (CME) includes an attendee audience who are Physicians, Surgeons, Podiatrists, Nurses and Other Wound Care Professionals who need CME/Contact Hour credits. Exhibits at our Conference are designed for the display and demonstration of new products and/or services directly related to the practice and advancement of the science of wound care diagnosis and treatment.

UHMS Mission Statement

The UHMS CME Mission is: "The Continuing Medical Education mission of the Undersea and Hyperbaric Medical Society is to develop and promote evidence-based educational activities that improve the scientific knowledge, competence and/or performance within the scope of undersea and hyperbaric medicine, including wound healing. The primary aim is to improve health care delivery and quality of patient care in diving and hyperbaric medicine practice. The target audience of this effort are physicians and allied health professionals, both nationally and internationally." All direct and jointly provided educational activities should be planned and implemented to meet the UHMS CME Mission as UHMS is the responsible accredited provider of all activities reported to ACCME.

Synergicare LLC

Synergicare LLC was formed with a unique mission in that we strive to provide Continuing Medical Education from the standpoint of a wound care professional who is actively working in the field teaching hands on information to other professional healthcare providers in general rather than simply to nurses or clinicians. We strive to provide the highest quality education possible utilizing the most effective personally proven protocols and state of the art treatment methods available in the wound care education market.

At Synergicare, our policy is simple: we promise to provide classes that meet a real need in the healthcare provider search for ways to address complex wound care problems or to obtain necessary training or contact hours in the healthcare field. We make every effort to provide our education programs with the best in quality, service, convenience and price.
